

Voice Found.

Gilberto L. Cedolia
Director

Gilberto L. Cedolia is a finance, risk management and ESG professional, with a background in capital markets and corporate banking. Currently, Gilberto is the Director of Strategic Initiatives for Scotiabank's Financial Crimes Risk Management department.

Since 2019, Gilberto has been leading Scotiabank's Financial Access Program: a specialized financial inclusion initiative that promotes financial literacy and banking services to survivors of human trafficking in Canada. Through this work, Gilberto has fostered relationships and served as an advisor for anti-human trafficking organizations both in Canada and internationally, including; The United Nations University, Finance Against Slavery & Trafficking (FAST), ECPAT International, Illuminate and International Justice Mission. In addition, he is a frequent speaker on the intersection of finance and ESG, with a focus on social sustainability initiatives.

Gilberto obtained a Master of Business Administration from the DeGroote School of Business, McMaster University.